

Dear Veteran,

Thank you for fighting and keeping our country safe. Thank you for fighting in other countries to help them gain freedom.

In class we read a poem called, "Why Wear a Poppy," and we learned we wear a poppy to remember the brave soldiers that fought in war. We read a book called, "A Poppy is to Remember." We learned about how hard it was for soldiers returning home from the war. We read a book called, "A Poppy is to Remember," and there is a poem in the book called "In Flanders Fields," and John McCrae an army doctor sat on a rock and started writing the poem because his friend died in the Great War.

We watched a clip called, "A Poppy is to Remember," which showed how scary it must be to fight in a war. We saw graves of soldiers, guns, and tanks. What a terrible thing to go through.

At the Remembrance Day we watched and we listened to the grade 5's and the grade 6's sing "A Pittances of Time," in the gym for the ceremony. On the day of the ceremony we saw a show called, "The Black Light Drama", and this type of performance was the first ever at our school.

Yours Truly,

Nella
